Silver Business Comes To End For Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government officially gets out of the silver business this week, ending a long, colorful and sometimes controversial association with the white metal.

Once the main issue of a presidential campaign, the metal that used to make American coins ring has fallen on hard times—at least as money.

The government break with silver comes Tuesday, the date of the Treasury Department's final sale of the metal on the private market.

"Silver is just too valuable to be used as coinage," according to Thomas Wolfe, director of Treasury's Office of Gold and Silver Operation.

In other words, the supply of

Sen. Muskie Already Eyes 1972 Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, says he has started to sound Democratic leaders about possible support for the presidency in 1972.

So far, the inquiries have been made "in a tentative, limited way," Muskie said. But that effort "obviously has to be expanded and escalated," he added.

"When the final decision comes, it will depend, I think, largely upon whether I think I am the candidate or the man who can best serve that function."

Muskie, just elected for his third term in the Senate, would not say who he has contacted in his probe of Democratic feeling for his candidacy. To reveal the contacts, he said, "would misrepresent the nature of my interests and my drive in this connection."

Just when he will make a decision whether to run, Muskie wouldn't say. "I don't have any fixed timetable in mind," he said. One questioner said it appeared Muskie feels President Nixon can be beaten in 1972. He replied: "Any president is beatable."

He appeared on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press."

South Viets Take Control Of U.S. Area

Paves The Way For Further American Pullout

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops have taken over offensive operations from the Americans in an area of 100 square miles north of Saigon, authoritative sources disclosed today.

The major shift of allied responsibilities virtually ends the American offensive role along the Saigon River corridor, a long-time North Vietnamese-Viet Cong infiltration and supply route.

Four American artillery and patrol bases have been turned over to the South Vietnamese along a 50-mile stretch of the river, from the Cambodian border south to within 20 miles of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops also are taking over Cu Chi, a giant base camp 20 miles northwest of Saigon that is the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division. The division's headquarters and its 1st and 3rd Brigades are returning to Hawaii by Christmas.

Other American units at Cu Chi and Dau Tieng, an American brigade headquarters farther north, will be pulled out soon.

For the most part, sources said, the realignment leaves American forces in the western half of the 3rd Military Region defending their remaining bases and conducting such defensive operations as local reconnaissance, searching out enemy caches and protecting the current rice harvest.

The realignment is part of President Nixon's withdrawal program to reduce U.S. strength in Vietnam to 284,000 troops by next May 1.

The U.S. Command announced today that American forces in the country dropped another 6,000 men last week to 368,000. It was the lowest level since Dec. 10, 1966, when there were 367,400.

Earl Named New British Ambassador

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative government has named as its ambassador to Washington an outspoken banker who says, "It will be important to explain to the Americans why we must move closer to Europe."

The government announced today that the 52-year-old Earl of Cromer, head of the great 19th century banking family of Baring, will replace journalist-politician John Freeman in Britain's No. 1 diplomatic post.

Cromer was British economic minister to Washington from 1959 to 1961 and for the next five years was governor of the Bank of England, one of the nation's most influential financial positions. His plain speaking in that post was at times a thorn to both the Conservatives who appointed him and the Laborites who inherited him in 1964. But his prestige in the international banking world was considered a major factor in the rescue of the pound early in the Laborite term.

Many observers also credit Cromer with a decisive influence in the June election that brought Prime Minister Edward Heath to power. Speaking on television, he challenged the Labor Government's claim that it had strengthened the nation's economy by wiping out the balance of payments deficit.

Cromer's appointment to Washington drew cheers in British financial circles, but the Financial Times warned that his success "will depend partly upon whether he can establish a close personal relationship with the President."

Rain spread from Washington and northern California eastward into Idaho and Nevada, where in the higher elevations it turned to snow. Heavy snow warnings were in effect for the mountains of central Idaho.

Skies were clear over most of the remainder of the nation. Early morning temperatures ranged from a low of 21 at Lebanon, N.H., to 74 at Homestead, Fla.

Egypt Makes New Attempt To Form Arab Federation

Nader Blasts U.S. Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cannot be certain of adequate health care because doctors and government officials tolerate the poor practice of medicine, says a Ralph Nader study group.

The report, written by a former federal health official with help from medical and law students, chronicles a long list of what it calls medical abuses: the failure of doctors to keep abreast of new developments, the "leaking" of poorly qualified foreign medical school graduates into the U.S. system, performance of unnecessary operations, prescription of unnecessary drugs and some simply shoddy practices.

The basis of the problem, according to the report, is the failure of doctors to review each other's work and to establish standards for the practice of medicine.

The Nader group was directed by Dr. Robert S. McCleery, a 57-year-old surgeon and former deputy director of the Food and Drug Administration's bureau of medicine.

The report proposed the federal government establish a national board to work with doctors in setting medical care standards.

"Every citizen is at the mercy of a system devoid of uniform, enforced standards of quality and must run the risks involved in the statistics of uneven levels of care among hospitals and physicians," said the report.

Among the statistics cited: —A Columbia University study of hospital admissions that showed 57 per cent of the patients received good or optimal care. The rest got care rated fair or poor.

—A report by the National Commission on Health Manpower that examinations passed by 98 per cent of U.S. medical school graduates were successfully completed by only 40 per cent of students from foreign

Supreme Court Takes Up Question Of Death Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court heard a renewed plea today for major changes in the way the death sentence is imposed in the United States.

Lawyers for two condemned slayers argued that juries should be stripped of their "absolute discretion" to decide which guilty men should die and which should get jail terms.

The three-hour hearing was a replay of arguments before the court over the last two years that led to no decision. In the meantime, the number of men and women on death row has grown to more than 550—most of whom have a life-or-death interest in the outcome.

The two prisoners whose appeals are before the court are Dennis C. McGautha of Los Angeles and James E. Crampton of Toledo, Ohio. Crampton was convicted of killing his wife, McGautha of killing a grocer.

McGautha's lawyer, Herman F. Selvin of Beverly Hills, Calif., argued California law provides no standards or guidelines for the jury to determine whether to impose the death penalty or a life sentence.

Crampton's lawyer, John J. Callahan of Toledo, argues similarly regarding death penalty jurors in Ohio.

Should the court agree, all but a handful of the current death sentences could be upset and state legislatures required to lay down specific guidelines for future juries.

The prisoners spared by such a ruling presumably would be resentenced. Callahan also argued that the trial should be split up, as it is in California, Texas, Georgia, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New York. This would allow a defendant to plead for mercy without waiving his Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination.

In a single-stage trial, the lawyer said, a defendant who pleads for mercy appears to jurors to be confessing his guilt and is apt to be convicted. He also leaves himself open to cross-examination. If the defendant does not plead for mercy, Callahan said, he risks receiving the death penalty. Arguing against any changes were the states of California and Ohio and, importantly, the U.S. government.

Ronald M. George, a deputy attorney general of California, said juries are specifically cautioned not to be arbitrary and are told to consider all evidence surrounding the crime as well as the defendant's background and history.

questioning the war's legality.

At first, only Douglas dissented. Subsequently, he was joined by Stewart. Today, the dissenters picked up Harlan.

Massachusetts thus fell one vote short of winning a hearing. Under court rules four justices must acquiesce before a case can be heard.

Massachusetts had argued that without a declaration of war the President has no authority to send American troops into combat in Southeast Asia.

The Nixon administration counseled the court against granting the state a hearing. Justice Department officials said a judicial inquiry into the legality of the war would hamstring the President, insult Congress and embarrass the nation.

Voting against a hearing were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun. Both of whom were put on the court by President Nixon and Justices Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall, holdovers from past administrations.

Dissenting with Douglas were Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart.

In the past the court has declined every time to hear suits

OU Employees Approve Contract

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Non-academic employees at Ohio University have approved a new contract that union leaders say will be used as a pattern for negotiations at four other state universities where contracts have expired.

Agreement on the new two-year contract at Ohio University was reached Saturday, one week after the old contract expired. Local 1699 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which represents 900 university employees, had been given authorization to call a strike if agreement were not reached.

Under the agreement, employees receive increased insurance benefits and the option of working two and one-half hours a week overtime for additional pay.

Whatever decisions the administration makes must be submitted to a Congress that not only remains firmly under Democratic control, but maintains in key positions most of the same men who confronted the Republican White House during the past two years.

The specter of big deficits plagues administration planners at every turn as they tackle more specific problems of the coming year, including: —The draft, which expires June 30. Nixon is committed in principle to moving toward an all-volunteer army, which would be costly in pay and other incentives.

—Reform of the welfare system, unless Congress in the upcoming lame duck session succeeds in reconciling sharply differing versions. Main objection to the administration plan has been its cost. Meanwhile welfare rolls continue to soar above predictions.

—Possible extension of Federal aid to college students. Again, cost is the big headache. —Continuation or revamping of the antipoverty program.

—Mounting sentiment for a national health insurance program

See Progress In Auto Talks

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers and General Motors negotiators return to the bargaining table today amid reports from automotive sources that progress was made over the weekend toward ending the eight-week strike.

On both Saturday and Sunday, the negotiators met for more than 10 hours. The sessions are being conducted under a news blackout.

Marathon, night-long sessions have been a certain tipoff of an imminent agreement in the past. But none has yet marked current GM-UAW negotiations, which began July 15.

The strike, called Sept. 15 to support the UAW's wage and fringe benefit demands, has idled 400,000 in GM plants in the United States and Canada and has resulted in thousands of layoffs in supplier plants and related industries.

The union has summoned its GM Council to Detroit Wednesday, an action which usually follows contract settlement.

The union said that this time, however, such a meeting was necessary whether or not there was a new national contract. It said plans must be made for strike continuance if there is no new contract by Wednesday.

GM and the UAW Sunday reached the halfway point in wrapping up at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contract, when the 81st out of 162 separate UAW-GM bargaining units came to terms.

Shot Fired At 'Nixon'

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A county grand jury which meets tonight for further investigation of violence at an Oct. 29 campaign speech here by President Nixon learned through news reports Sunday the FBI is checking an unverified report a shot was fired.

"It was news to me," Ernest Renzel, the jury foreman, said of the reports from Washington and Key Biscayne, Fla. Those reports said FBI agents were questioning White House staff members and newsmen about the possibility a shot was fired before the President's limousine was stoned by antiwar demonstrators.

So far as is known, no newsman at the scene has any reason to believe a shot was fired. The FBI questions suggested a shot could have been fired by a low-caliber weapon from a distance or by a gun equipped with a silencer.

Renzel said the grand jury would determine whether to conduct a major investigation of the violence.

Sudan, Libya Form 1st Step In Latest Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egypt is planning to federate with Sudan and Libya to form "a nucleus for the unity of the Arab world" in northeast Africa. It is Cairo's second such attempt to put together a greater Arab nation.

The late President Gamal Abdel Nasser failed in the first attempt, a federation with Syria and Yemen that was formed in 1958. It existed mostly on paper, and was broken up by Syria in September 1961. Egypt's official name remains the United Arab Republic, a remnant of that try at union.

Nasser's successor, Anwar Sadat, President Jaafar el Numeiri of Sudan and Col. Muammar Kadhafi, leader of Libya's military regime, announced plans for the new merger early today after a conference in Cairo.

No target date was given for putting the federation into operation.

"The Arab world is facing internal as well as external attempts to liquidate the revolutionary tide," it said, adding that the confederation was reconstituted also by the death of Nasser, "whose mere presence in the Arab struggle (with Israel) was a sufficient symbol of unity for the Arab peoples."

Under the plan, called the Tripoli Charter in honor of a conference Nasser, Kadhafi and Numeiri held there this year, a tripartite command will first consolidate the political systems in the countries and coordinate their policies the communiqué said. The command will set up three-sided boards to govern the confederation later including a "supreme planning committee," a national security council for defense, an implementation committee to maintain national progress and subcommittees to handle political, economic, military and social questions.

Observers noted that the boards will include representatives from all three nations and their decisions presumably will

President Faces Red Ink, Cool Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The persistent and mounting red ink in the federal budget probably will be President Nixon's major problem in dealing with the new Congress next year.

It is a Congress that Tuesday's election changed only slightly—and not in a way to help him much in his fiscal dilemma.

Facing a deficit estimated by congressional specialists as high as $15 billion to $16 billion, the administration—if it remains true to its announced principles — must make hard choices about cutting spending, increasing taxes or both.

At the same time, it is under heavier pressure to try new ways of boosting an economy that now registers a seven-year high in unemployment—while avoiding feeding persistent inflation.

There is widespread feeling the economy, harped on by Democrats, had more impact on the electorate Tuesday than the law and order arguments of the Republicans.

And with attention now turning to the 1972 presidential contest, more jobs and a slowdown in price jumps become a GOP political must.

Whatever decisions the administration makes must be submitted to a Congress that not only remains firmly under Democratic control, but maintains in key positions most of the same men who confronted the Republican White House during the past two years.

Injuries, Thefts Handled By Sheriff's Department

A variety of reports were handled by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department over the weekend.

Bennie Jones, 64, Route 3, and his 5-year-old son were injured in a tractor mishap at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Jones and the boy were thrown from the vehicle when it hit a railroad tie. Both were injured when the tractor ran over them.

The boy was treated at Berger Hospital for contusions and abrasions.

JONES suffered a broken arm and collapsed lung. He was transferred to University Hospital, Columbus.

Patty D. May, Route 2, Ashville, reported someone forced the back door of the house and took a radio, cameras, record player, clothing and jewelry valued at $198.33.

Robert Stant, Route 1, suffered burns of the right hand when a pan of grease caught fire in his apartment at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

He was taken to Berger

Hospital for treatment. Damage to the apartment was set at $300.

A 17-year-old Waverly boy has been charged by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department with giving a false report.

He notified the sheriff's department someone had broken into the Certified Oil Station on Route 23 and taken $139.64.

According to the report of Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, the youth, an attendant at the station on Route 23 and taken admitted he had taken the money. He returned the money and the manager declined to prosecute him.

have to be unanimous. Thus there apparently was no loss of sovereignty envisioned by the drafters of the charter, but this also increases the possibility of the disagreements that always wreck attempts at Arab unity.

The confederation will bring together some of the world's most lucrative oil fields in Libya, potentially rich wheat fields in Sudan and the Arab world's most powerful military force, in Egypt.

75 Cases Filed In Traffic Court

Circleville Municipal Court filed 75 cases during the weekend and collected $847 in bond money.

Local motorist's on the court docket were:

Howard E. Downs, 40, Mt. Sterling, $15 and costs for parking on the highway, Glen Hinzman, 24, Ashville, $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone; Susan K. Pyffe, 362 S. Washington St., $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone; William B. Teets, 69, 205 E. Main St., $24 bond forfeiture for operating a motor vehicle with no muffler.

Dryer Vent Blamed In Laundromat Fire

City firemen answered two fire alarms over the weekend, one involving serious damage to a laundromat at the Elsea Trailer Court.

A late Sunday evening call alerted the fire department to a blaze at the trailer court, Court St. There was undetermined loss to equipment and contents in the fire which was believed to have started in one of the dryer vents. The building suffered $150 damage.

Earlier Sunday at 5:15 p.m. a small dilapidated shed ignited when sparks flew from a nearby trash barrel. The building was located on the rear of a property owned by Ida Reed, 217 E. Mound St. There was no loss.

Booster Club Meets Tuesday

Circleville's Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

They will have tickets for the autographed football at the gates before Friday's game.

So far the Boosters have raised $532 with the ball raffles toward the purchase of junior high football equipment.

Assault And Battery Draws $50 Fine

Elmer Hill, Circleville, was fined $50 and costs and given a 60 day suspended jail sentence by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb. Hill was charged with assault and battery by Patricia Meno.

North Vietnamese OK Yule Packages

TOKYO (AP) — The North Vietnamese government has granted permission for captured U.S. pilots to receive gift parcels for Christmas and New Year from their families, Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency said today.

VNA said parcels of 11 pounds, instead of the usual 6.6 pounds, will be allowed for the year-end gifts. It added that the parcels are to be sent by mail via Moscow, "in accordance with the procedures already laid down," and parcels sent in any other way will not be accepted.

gram, with heavy government financial participation.

On the other hand, Democratic gains in the election could improve the chances, still slim, of one Republican proposal—sharing federal revenues with the states.

Democrats will have more governors—as many as 11 more—and control more state legislatures. The majority Democrats in Congress could be under more pressure from home to help hard-pressed local governments.

But Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, shortly before the election firmly reiterated his opposition to revenue sharing, especially while the federal budget is in deficit. And Mills will be on the job again next year.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy repeatedly has indicated it will seek new or extended taxes, if spending cuts do not reduce deficits to manageable size.

Although he has not been specific, one possibility is postponement of some income tax reductions, such as the increase in the personal exemption to $700 effective Jan. 1, 1972, and a steep in the standard personal deduction.

Revision of estate and gift taxes, including the possibility of taxing capital gains in inheritances, is still on the docket of the Ways and Means Committee.

Administration tax policy officials also are known to be interested in the value-added tax, a form of sales tax imposed at various stages in the manufacturing process. From a political point of view, it would be less visible than an income tax increase.

Burglary Reported To City Police

A burglary of Circleville Iron and Metal Works was discovered 8:40 a.m. by Dick Dean, Route 1.

The glass in the front door of the business was broken. Burglars ransacked the office and took a money box.

Police also received a report from Doyle Spangler, 1028 Georgia Road, that his home had been entered through a rear door. Nothing appeared to have been stolen however.

Melvin Manbeavers, 1258 Norfolk Ave., reported at 5:41 p.m. Sunday that his camera had been stolen.

Bill Thomas, 215 Water St., reported that an automobile valued at $60 had been stolen. The motor belonged to 23 Auto Parts.

James Leist, owner of Jim's Pay and Save, told police the window at his location on 400 N. Court St. had been broken, apparently by vandals. The window was valued at $250.

Russian Space Program Making Strong Recovery

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space program appears to be making a strong recovery both in manned flight and space robot missions after several years in the shadow of American triumphs.

Although the Russians lost the moon race, they have rebounded this year with their own moon-scooping machine and have just completed their fourth unmanned round-the-moon shot in the Zond series.

schools. Yet, the United States is so desperate for doctors that the foreign graduates "leak" into the American medical system anyway, the commission said.

—A Kansas survey which reported that, despite ample post-licensing educational programs offered to doctors in the state over a 10-year period, 48 percent of the doctors did not take advantage of the courses.

The report proposed that doctors be subjected to relicensing tests, and that they be certified to practice only in a specific field.

In replying to the report, the American Medical Association said: "We are working almost continually with the Congress and its executive branch of the federal government to promote quality and cost controls." The AMA said a hasty reading showed the report appeared worthy of objective consideration.

Muscle And Joint Pain

It is usually some form of pain that prompts a patient to consult a doctor.

Millions of patients throughout the world can testify to the effective relief through chiropractic care in dealing with the pain of muscle - skeletal disorders. These include conditions of the shoulder, arm, wrist, and hand; the neck and back; the hips, thigh, and leg; the chest and even the abdomen. Correction of the cause through early chiropractic care eliminates pain, and most importantly, helps prevent crippling disability.

Consult your doctor of chiropractic as soon as symptoms begin.

ing planet in mid-December. If it lands in operating condition Soviet space authorities can look back over a successful year.

Moving ahead on a separate front, newspapers and broadcasters have hailed the success of the unmanned moon-scooper as a cheaper, safer method of doing what the Apollo astronauts did. There has been no emphasis on the fact that Luna carried home 3½ ounces of moon soil compared with the 132 pounds collected in the Apollo 11 and 12 missions.

No Soviet moon landing is in preparation, according to frequent disclaimers in Moscow, but it is likely that more unmanned scoopers will seek more soil samples.

Any Soviet space planners embarrassed when Apollo 11 and 12 landed on the moon must feel somewhat vindicated now. Besides the prestige of their Luna 16 soil, they have the satisfaction of watching Washington re-evaluate the need for manned flights.

Settlement Made In Callihan Case

Jurors were seated this morning for a civil suit in the Common Pleas Court but were dismissed without any business brought before them as the parties involved settled their differences prior to court opening.

This morning's trial involved a suit brought against the City of Circleville, County Commissioners and Circleville Twp. trustees by Edward and Marjorie Callihan. Filed February, 1968, the action sought payment of damages totaling $560,000 for injuries Mrs. Callihan received in an accident several years ago near the General Electric plant.

The accident occurred during the winter when so many heavy snows blanketed Roundtown in a short period of time, requiring the city and county to plow the snow from the roadways into the center of the streets to permit traffic flow.

Attorneys for the plaintiff and defense apparently reached a satisfactory agreement for settlement of the issue before the case could be brought to trial this morning, but after the jury was selected.

Order Of Rainbow Girls Bestows Honorary Degrees

Marie L. Hamilton Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls will be active assemblies in 44 states and 15 foreign countries in ceremonies Sunday. They will bestow the honorary degree of the Grand Cross of Color upon members who have performed distinguished services for the order.

A few years after the organization of the Order of DeMolay for Boys, Mark Saxon, a minister in McAlester, Okla., made an appeal to the members of his Eastern Star Chapter to start a similar organization for girls. They approved and appointed Rev. Saxon to write the ritual. The O. R. G. was founded April 6, 1922.

Some of the oldest Masonic charters use the rainbow as a symbol in connection with fraternal life. Mr. Saxon chose the name Rainbow for the organization.

The Rainbow teaches 10 things: belief in the existence of a Supreme Being; the great truths in the Bible; dignity of character; a conception of the higher things in life; effective leadership; church membership; patriotism; cooperation with equals; love of home and service to humanity.

Any teenage girl, properly recommended by an Eastern Star or a Mason in good standing, may petition for membership. She does not have to come from a Masonic family although she becomes a prospective Eastern Star and frequently her family joins the fraternity.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls encourages civic activities. The girls help in hospitals, buy wheelchairs, look after needy families, help care for the aged, adopt an orphan and other humanitarian services. They sponsor benefits to raise money for their activities.

Each assembly has an advisory board of Masons and Eastern Stars who guide and direct the girls. Each state has an outstanding Eastern Star or Mason in charge. The Supreme Assembly is the international group. The international headquarters of the order is located in McAlester, Okla., in the International Temple built by the Rainbow Girls.

Tabasco-Pepper Sauces Ideal For Egg Dishes

By ALICE DENHOFF

Seasoning is the secret of many a dish compounded of just plain old everyday ingredients.

The French use herbs and Dijon mustard, the latter for giving a lively lift to bland foods.

Jane Fonda Says Pills 'Health Food'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda faces a federal court hearing today on charges of assaulting a customs agent and smuggling pills into the country.

Miss Fonda, who has been speaking out against U.S. military action in Southeast Asia, said in a Sunday night appearance at Notre Dame University that the government is "just looking for a way to intimidate me. They are trying to intimidate anyone who is trying to get at the root of the problem in the United States," she told the university audience at South Bend, Ind.

She said vials of pills which government agents confiscated when she was arrested early Tuesday at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport contained health food.

The U.S. attorney's office said 105 vials containing some 2,000 capsules were found in the 32-year-old actress' suitcase. The capsules were sent to a laboratory for analysis.

Miss Fonda was detained by authorities when she arrived on a flight from Canada, and authorities say she became abusive and violent. She was accused of assaulting a customs officer and kicking a policeman who came to the officer's aid.

She was charged with assault by police also, pleaded innocent to the charges and asked for a jury trial in municipal court.

Andy Williams, Claudine Loget Are Separated

LONDON (AP) — Singer Andy Williams and his wife Claudine Loget say they are having a trial separation even though they are sharing a suite at the Savoy Hotel.

"The marriage wasn't quite what it should be," Williams told a newsman. "We were taking each other for granted. We finally decided to have a sabbatical—I guess a civilized separation is the best description for it."

Mrs. Williams said, "We split up because it is better to part before you get to the point of hitting each other. If we get together again our marriage will probably be much better for the separation."

Williams, 39, and his French-born wife, 28, have been married nine years.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes has come to the defense of John S. Andrews, whose future as Republican state chairman has been in doubt since Tuesday's election losses to Democrats.

Rhodes applauded Andrews Friday as the "best state chairman in the nation" and asked party leaders to close ranks within the framework of the state organization.

OSU Seeking More Money To Operate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University has requested increased subsidies from the state's general assembly to help make ends meet in the upcoming 1971-73 biennium.

According to budget requests submitted to the Ohio Board of Regents last week, the university plans to spend a record $517,193,000 for the two-year period.

Ohio State officials have asked for corresponding increases in subsidy payments by the state. The school asked that $100 million in subsidies be provided each year, as compared to $88 million in the 1969-70 school year and $70 million for the 1970-71 period.

Subsidy payments go exclusively to the financing of instructional, general service, research and public service programs.

The $30 million hike in subsidy requests reflects swelling costs of programs, services and employment, according to school officials.

Included in the new figures is an anticipated drop in revenues as Ohio State cuts back its enrollment to meet requirements of the board of regents.

The regents have suggested that the student population be reduced from the current 50,000 to a more manageable 40,000 as quickly as possible.

The university expects to lose about $2 million a year in student fees alone as a result of the enrollment cutback.

University President Novice Pawett said that if the subsidies are not approved by the legislature, student fees will probably have to be raised to make up the difference.

Student fees have been the traditional source of income to fill the void between the actual

Nixon Meets With Backers Of Buckley

GRAND CAY, The Bahamas (AP) — President Nixon, here for a post-election island holiday, met informally Sunday night with leaders of New York's Conservative Party, which ousted incumbent Republican Sen. Charles E. Goodell in Tuesday's balloting.

Nixon spent about an hour and a half with the chairman and vice chairman of the New York Conservatives, then had a dinner get-together with columnist William Buckley, brother of James L. Buckley, who carried the third-party standard to victory over Goodell and Democrat Richard Ottinger.

The Southern White House took some pains to emphasize that the New Yorkers "dropped by" for sociability. However, Conservative Party Chairman Daniel Mahoney told reporters that politics certainly was discussed—that Nixon showed a keen interest in the New York Senate race and the techniques of the Buckley campaign.

Buckley won with the active support of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and the tacit blessing of Nixon. Goodell had frequently differed with administration policy, while Buckley promised the White House support.

Nixon and C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo, his friend and neighbor from Key Biscayne, Fla., flew by helicopter to Grand Cay Saturday following a five-hour policy-and-politics planning session at the Florida White House.

Gilligan To Seek Citizen Participation In Government

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Gov.-elect John J. Gilligan began a two-day vacation Sunday after pledging in his first major address since the election to restore confidence and citizen participation in government.

Gilligan, who spoke Saturday night at The Associated Press of Ohio's fall meeting here, relaxed at home Sunday and was to remain there today.

Aides said he would return to Columbus Tuesday to continue the selection of a cabinet and the planning of a legislative program.

He also plans meetings with legislative leaders of both parties.

Gilligan, in his talk to more than 100 newspaper executives and their wives, said Ohioans "for too many years have been outside the processes of their own government." He added: "Our task is to turn that around—to bring the people of Ohio back into the real workings of government, to give them the opportunity to be involved in the decision-making processes that affect their day-to-day lives."

He noted that more people voted in Ohio in 1936 than in 1966, and more in 1960 than in 1964, despite the fact that the state has nearly doubled in population since that 1936 election year.

"This has to be a danger signal to all of us who believe in our representative system of government," the Democrat said.

"If people do not believe they can turn to the political process for redress of their grievances then they are going to turn to some other means."

The newspaper executives had earlier unanimously approved a resolution in support of proposed federal legislation that would protect newspaper reporters from attempts to make them reveal sources of confidential information.

Richard M. Schmidt Jr. of Washington, an attorney for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said the subpoena had become a way of life to many "lazy" government prosecutors and defense attorneys.

Instead of digging for their own facts, Schmidt said, they increasingly attempt to subpoena newsmen and their notes for information they might need in trial prosecution.

Schmidt said Ohio is one of 17 states that has a "shield law" protecting reporters from revealing their sources. The law is currently being challenged in Cleveland.

A copy of the resolution calling for a similar shield law on the federal level will be sent to Ohio's 24 congressmen and the state's two U.S. senators.

Government Sues General Motors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has filed its first suit under the 1966 National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act, asking a federal court to force General Motors Corp. to warn purchasers of 200,000 pickup trucks about allegedly unsafe wheels.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court here Friday, also seeks a maximum $400,000 in civil penalties.

The government charges GM failed to warn owners of three-quarter-ton Chevrolet and GMC pickups manufactured between 1960 and 1965, even after the National Highway Safety Bureau determined the wheels are unsafe.

The bureau told GM on Nov. 4 that pickup trucks equipped with three-piece 15-by-5.50 Kelley-Hayes disc wheels, are "subject to sudden and catastrophic failure resulting in... an unreasonable risk of accident, death and injuries."

GM went into federal court at Wilmington, Del., the same day in an attempt to block the notification order. The corporation said the safety bureau's finding "is not supported by competent engineering evidence."

Man Settles Lawsuit For $3.20

SANTAROSA, Calif. (AP) — The $3.20 lawsuit between Alfred E. Fuller and California Physicians Service over his claim for a refund on a medicare overpayment has been settled amicably.

Officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the CPS visited Fuller, 71, at his home and presented him a check.

It covered not only his claim for $3.20 but an additional $8 for his cost in bringing the case to Sonoma County Small Claims Court.

The claim had traveled a circuitous route. Because the federal medicare program was involved, Fuller's suit was passed on to U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

There Chief Judge Oliver Carter said Fuller had sued after trying unsuccessfully to get his $3.20 from CPS and that the government was burying Fuller in paper work.

"I feel we're losing the battle to the computer," Carter said, and remanded the case to small claims court here "which is where this case should be tried."

CPS then rechecked its records, and the visit to Fuller followed.

Fuller said Friday he was delighted and that the problem had been caused by "some coding errors."

Nixon-Agnew Efforts In Campaign Seen Mostly Futile

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite scattered successes, there is little evidence the strenuous campaign efforts of President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew did more than raise money and morale for the GOP in last week's elections.

They even may have caused damage, driving dissident Democrats back into party ranks this year and creating bitterness in the moderate wing of the GOP likely to take the form of cries for Agnew's replacement on the 1972 ticket.

Only 18 of the 52 Senate and governor candidates for whom Nixon and Agnew campaigned in 38 states were elected last Tuesday.

Many of those who won probably would have been elected without any help from Nixon or Agnew. In addition, a dozen Republican governors aided by one or the other were thrown out of office.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Ronald Reagan of California, William G. Milliken of Michigan and Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts were reelected generally on their own.

Of these, the only state in which Nixon and Agnew actually campaigned was California. Although Reagan won a second term, by a reduced margin, the major object of the Nixon-Agnew push, Sen. George Murphy, was trounced by Democrat John V. Tunney, and Republicans lost the legislature.

Many Democratic leaders feel the aggressive GOP "law and order" push, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's election eve television appearance to answer GOP charges, did more to unify the Democratic party than anything in the past two years.

In two states, Connecticut and Tennessee, where both Nixon and Agnew appeared, the Republicans captured both the governorship and a Senate seat from the Democrats.

However, the disintegration of Connecticut party organization, a divisive Senate primary, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's disruptive independent candidacy and a weak gubernatorial campaign presage Democratic defeat before Nixon and Agnew ever campaigned there.

And in Tennessee, increasingly Republican in recent years, a business scandal revolving around the Democratic gubernatorial nominee and the rising opposition to Sen. Albert Gore evidenced by his weak primary showing were significant fore-runners of the GOP victory.

In Maryland, Republican J. Glenn Beall Jr.'s victory over Sen. Joseph D. Tydings was mainly due to antagonism to the senator, and, in Ohio, Republican Robert Taft Jr.'s win in the face of a Democratic gubernatorial triumph is credited largely to his famous family name.

Only in New York, where Nixon and Agnew never really campaigned directly, can the Republican leaders claim success. Their efforts to undercut Republican Sen. Charles E. Goodell because of his anti-Nixon votes on key issues had the intended double effect of making it respectable for Republicans to support Conservative nominee James Buckley while driving some liberals to Goodell from Democrat Richard Ottinger.

Despite the short-range success in New York, Nixon and Agnew probably have bought themselves a peck of long-range trouble. The resentment stirred by Nixon's and Agnew's efforts among liberal Republicans in New York is likely to carry over into 1972 in a state where a sharply divided and leaderless Democratic party went for Hubert H. Humphrey in 1964 over Nixon.

So much for the successes. In state after state, where the national administration had recruited GOP candidates, campaigned strenuously for them and provided heavy financing, Republicans were unsuccessful in efforts to dislodge Democratic senators. And a number of House seats vacated by GOP Senate candidates were won by Democrats.

In North Dakota, Nevada, Wyoming and Utah, where Nixon and Agnew recruited GOP contenders, Democratic Sens. Quentin Burdick, Howard M. Cannon, Gale McGee and Frank E. Moss equaled or bettered their 1964 winning percentages. The congressional seats held by the GOP Senate candidates in North Dakota, Wyoming and Utah went Democratic.

Agnew appeared at least once in each of the states, and Nixon campaigned in all but Wyoming.

In Texas, where Republican optimism was evident during a two-stop swing by the President six days before the election, Democrats held the governorship and a Senate seat by comfortable margins.

Elsewhere in the South, the Nixon-Agnew effort proved futile.

In Florida, where the two made six appearance between them in an effort to put the GOP back together after a bitter primary, Democrats swept the key races.

In North Carolina, where both campaigned in an effort to aid the GOP's fight to gain congressional and legislative seats, Democrats kept their House majority, added to their strength in the legislature.

In South Carolina, Georgia and Arkansas, Democrats won governors contests despite Agnew campaign appearances.

In New York and Massachusetts, GOP Gov. Rockefeller and Sargent made it clear earlier in the campaign they did not want any help from Agnew.

In Ohio, Taft asked for an appearance by Nixon and got it, while making clear he didn't think Agnew would help. The vice president stayed out.

In Minnesota, where Nixon repaid a political debt to GOP Senate nominee Clark MacGregor with a late-in-the-campaign speech, Republicans passed the word they didn't want Agnew, who earlier in the year had helped them raise $1 million.

His fund-raising efforts, and the morale boost from highly partisan speeches before highly partisan audiences, were the one acknowledged Agnew plus in the campaign. He raised some $3 million this fall, a similar amount earlier in the year.

If nothing else, the President, as he has throughout his political career, has done his utmost for local and state Republicans around the country.

In doing so, he has strengthened his position within the party even though the returns indicate he has made little progress toward that majority Republican party he hoped to build after winning the presidency with just 43 per cent of the vote in 1968.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

'Fair Lady' Should Be His Own Choice

DEAR ABBY: I am a recently divorced man, in my early fifties. I am considered good looking, still trim and vigorous, dress well and have done very well financially, so, lonesome, I'm not.

Before the ink was dry on my divorce papers, I started getting calls from friends, "Boy, have I got a girl for you!"

Don't misunderstand, Abby, I enjoy the company of the opposite sex, but I like to select my own. When I'm invited to dinner, I'm asked to pick up some lady who will be my "date" for the evening, then I have to take her home. Or else, I am paired up with somebody's middle-aged sister-in-law, who could haunt a house.

Question: When I'm invited out, would it be proper for me to say, "I am bringing my own lady?"

If it's my company they want, they should welcome me and a lady of my choice. If all they want me for is to escort someone of their choice, they can forget it. Correct me, if I'm wrong.

NOBODY'S FOOL IN L.A.
DEAR ABBY: When invited to dinner, always insist upon bringing your own lady, and you'll soon find out if you're wanted for yourself or not.

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh at the man who wrote in about his wife always counting calories. I wish his wife and mine could get together and reach a happy medium.

I am married to a woman who must have put on 80 pounds since I married her seven years ago. Needless to say I am ashamed to be seen with her. The rest of us eat sensibly, but my wife shovels in the bread, potatoes and sweets like there is no tomorrow. I've talked to her and so have her friends and members of my family and hers, too, but it does no good. At age 26 I am ready to take my love-making elsewhere because my wife is so repulsive.

Why do I stay? Because I love my kids and I suppose I still love the girl under all that blubber.

FATTY'S HUSBAND
DEAR HUSBAND: Her first move should be in the direction of a doctor. She eats because she's unhappy, and one of the reasons she's unhappy is because she's fat. If you love her, don't quit talking to her!

DEAR ABBY: I was interested in the letter signed "VERY MAD," from the "domestic" who is always introduced as "our Marybelle" as though she had no last name. You say the employer probably does it more out of "affection."

Then it would seem to me that the domestic, out of "affection," should be able to call the employer by HER first name, which I am sure the employer would neither encourage nor tolerate.

The relationship of domestic and employer in an "our Marybelle" situation sounds more like possession than affection—something that was supposed to have gone out with the Civil War.

P. K. CLEVELAND
DEAR ABBY: I have been a "domestic" for many years and I never felt put down because I was called "William." I have worked for people who were young enough to be my children, and I never expected them to call me "mister" to show "respect" for me or my age. The title doesn't give the job dignity nor the person respect. It is the person who gives the job dignity.

I think a lot of people are looking for something to be mad about these days.

I would rather have my employer shake my hand or pat me on the shoulder and call me "William," than stand two feet away from me and call me "Mr. Adams." I know I am respected and I have no complaints about what I'm called.

WILLIAM IN ATLANTA
DEAR ABBY: In reply to "MINNESOTA GIRL," relative to hitch hiking, I wish to make the following comments:

I am now in the process of investigating a case in which a 19-year-old girl also thought that hitching a ride with a stranger was cheaper and quicker than taking a bus. She was picked up by a "nice guy" who made advances to her. When he refused to stop the girl opened the door and jumped out. The car was traveling about 50 mph. Needless to say, the girl required hospital treatment.

Very truly yours,
DETECTIVE: WATERFORD, CONN.

PETTIT'S

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In "The Silent Force," ABC's new series, a three-man task force each week cuts off another tentacle of the octopus of organized crime.

Because of a request from Washington, the octopus never has any label more specific than, say, "syndicate" or "organization."

But "The FBI," which is also on ABC, suffers no such restrictions despite the fact that it works closely with J. Edgar Hoover's Washington headquarters and has a technical consultant at the studio to make sure the agency's image is kept bright.

Sunday night's "FBI" episode, for instance, was a routine action story about a businessman in financial trouble turning to a loan shark for help. It was given an interesting twist by having the businessman and most of the villains black men. But what was most unusual in these days, it spoke right out about the "Mafia" and made frequent references to "La Cosa Nostra."

Television is very careful these days about its ethnic references. A few months ago, a commercial for a snack food was withdrawn and another version substituted after complaints by Mexican-Americans that the humor cartoon character, a snack-eating "bandito," was offensive.

Italian-American groups have been the most vociferous. They have protested strongly the linking of the Mafia with Italian-sounding names. There have also been protests from Polish-Americans.

Television handles this touchy problem in two ways. If the scripts make it necessary to have an oriental, a black or a Mexican heavy, there will be one or more good guys with the same ethnic background to balance things off. That was the way it was handled in the most recent "FBI" episode. The real hero was the black owner of the faltering business. The second method is to remove any suggestion of ethnic origin in the names of the villains. In that same story, the boss of the Cosa Nostra was called Alex Poland.

Television has always handled doctors with care, backstopping medical programs with consultants and script advisory committees. But over the years there have been plenty of complaints involving occupations. District attorneys once were upset because Hamilton Burger never won any cases when Perry Mason was his adversary. Last season there was some grumbling because of the attitude of a Southern-accented police character in an automobile commercial. He's back this season, still selling cars, but all the rough edges have been smoothed away—he's just a jolly comic.

Federal Court Suit Attacks Report Of KSU Grand Jury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal court suit attacking the report of the special state grand jury on the Kent State University disorders last May is being filed on behalf of a group of KSU faculty members who contend they are "under threat of summary suspension from their positions" because of possible grand jury indictments.

Cleveland attorney Gerald Messerman said the petition would be filed today in U.S. District Court here.

Among the 32 plaintiffs listed by Messerman is Dr. Thomas S. Lough, 42, an associate professor in the Kent department of sociology and anthropology and one of the 25 indicted by the special state grand jury Oct. 15.

The petition alleges that the grand jury action sought to compel the Kent administration to "limit freedom of speech of students in the classroom" and was an effort to "dissipate criticism of public officials and of the Ohio National Guard for the manner in which officials and the guard had dealt with the unrest at KSU, and to repudiate the conclusions of other investigative bodies which had condemned public officials and the National Guard."

The suit charges that the grand jury investigation and report "constitutes a misuse of the investigative power of the grand jury...for the purpose of deterring, intimidating and harassing plaintiffs for the expression of unpopular ideas not generally accepted by the defendants."

Defendants named include Ohio Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown, Robert L. Balyeat of Lima, the special state attorney in charge of the grand jury investigation; Balyeat's assistants, Perry Dickinson and Seabury Ford and grand jury foreman Robert W. Hastings.

Elyria School Closed Down

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Elyria High School was closed to students today, and School Superintendent George B. Smittle said the staff would use the time "to plan necessary steps to reduce the tension at our high school."

A week of racial tension at the school was capped by an incident Friday in which black pupils blocked school buses until police were called.

Earlier in the week, black students presented a series of demands, including requests for more black teachers, black history courses, more blacks in vocational education and that black athletes be permitted to try out for positions of their choice in team sports.

Smittle asked parents to keep their children home and said no pupils would be permitted in or around the school unless requested by school authorities. He asked teachers to report to work as scheduled.

2 Persons Killed In Shooting At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A 51-year-old Youngstown woman and a man who roomed at her home died in a weekend shooting in which another man was injured critically.

Dead were Mrs. Jimmie Elizabeth Cooper and Charles Young.

Sammy Gay, 69, in whose apartment Saturday night the shooting took place was reported in critical condition with a bullet wound in the stomach.

Police said Gay and Mrs. Cooper were in the apartment when Young came in. Police said an argument ensued, and Young grabbed a handgun owned by Mrs. Cooper and opened fire. Gay told police he took a gun from a bureau drawer and returned the fire.

Coroner's investigators and police are investigating to determine who fired the fatal shots.

Mother Testifies At Inquest On Kidnapings In Canada

MONTREAL (AP) — The mother of two brothers sought for the kidnap-murder of Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte says one of her sons thought the earlier kidnaping of British Trade Commissioner James Cross was a stupid move because the Canadian government wouldn't meet ransom demands to free "a man like that."

Mrs. Jean-Paul Rose, mother of Paul, 27, and Jacques, 23, testified at a coroner's inquest for Laporte Saturday that she, her sons, and another suspect, Francois Simard, were on a trip to Texas when they heard of the Cross kidnaping Oct. 5. She said Paul made the remark.

She said the three men drove hard to get back to Montreal by Oct. 8 and that they mentioned en route that the Cross kidnaping was "probably the work of Jacques, Pierre and Alain," otherwise unidentified in testimony.

Choking with sobs, Mrs. Rose identified a dark sweater worn by Laporte when his body was found Oct. 18—10 days after his abduction—as similar to one belonging to one of her sons. Cross is believed still alive in the hands of his kidnapers from the Quebec Liberation Front, or FLQ.

She also identified a car seat blanket, a torn sheet and seal-skin boots as the property of one of her sons.

Police witnesses said the blanket was found on Laporte's body, and the sheet and boots at the bungalow where he had been kept.

Bernard Lortie, arrested Friday in connection with the kidnapings, told the inquest he helped the Rose brothers and Simard kidnap Laporte but was elsewhere when the labor minister was strangled.

The 19-year-old student said he and the others belonged to the Chenier cell of the FLQ, which seeks independence for French-speaking Quebec, and had been planning a kidnaping for some time. Communique from the front have implicated the Liberation cell in the Cross kidnaping, and the Dieppe cell in the killing. The front sought the release of 23 "political prisoners" in exchange for the two officials.

Lortie is held on a charge of conspiracy to kidnap Laporte.

Consumer Adviser Raps IRS Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's consumer adviser has become the first member of his administration to publicly criticize a temporarily suspended policy of cutting out tax exemptions for law firms practicing in the public interest.

Virginia Knauer and her Consumer Advisory Council urged Friday that young lawyers be freed of paying taxes when pursuing court action in such fields as consumer affairs.

Viet Reds Hike Infiltration; Some Going Into Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam has stepped up its troop infiltration southward so far this year but about 25 percent of its reinforcements apparently are being diverted to Cambodia, according to Pentagon sources.

U.S. military analysts studying infiltration figures for the first 10 months of 1970 estimate nearly 60,000 North Vietnamese soldiers have infiltrated South Vietnam and another 20,000 passed through southern Laos into Cambodia.

By comparison, about 67,000 North Vietnamese soldiers were estimated to have infiltrated in the first 10 months of 1969, all but about 1,500 into South Vietnam.

This suggests that the Cambodian front, opened last spring after the fall of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has caused Hanoi to raise the ante in troops committed to the Indochina war, Pentagon sources said. However, the increase was hardly enough to cause North Vietnam any serious manpower strain, they added.

U.S. intelligence reports the North Vietnamese have gotten perhaps a month's head start in their annual late year push to replenish their ranks for military operations during the season.

Infiltration totaled about 15,000 men in October and nearly 2,000 in the first several days of November, the sources said.

Experts believe North Vietnamese infiltrators are carrying much more equipment with them.

Silver . . .

shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

But, faced with mass desertion from his party, Bryan lost in 1896 and twice more; the political appeal of freer silver lost with him.

Gold remained the nation's money base until 1933 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt took the United States off the gold standard in an anti-Depression move.

Tuesday's severing from the silver market won't quite cut all government relations with the metal. The Treasury still has about 24 million ounces of unrefined silver and the Defense stockpile has another 165 million ounces—for industrial use in emergencies and in the event some future Congress might decide a silver coin is needed.

This, it was said, apparently is because the allied attack on Cambodian base areas last spring and the severing of a major enemy supply route from the Gulf of Siam have prevented enemy reinforcements from drawing on stored supplies.

While U.S. officials claim intense American air strikes at key points in Laos have set back by some weeks the North Vietnamese major resupply effort this year, they say it is impossible to stem the movement of enemy troop reinforcements traveling in small groups.

Dempsey Boots 63 - Yard Field Goal, NFL Record

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Tom Dempsey had an angel on his shoulder and some magic in his foot.
"We got beaten by a miracle, what else can you say?" was all Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt could say after Dempsey's record 63-yard field goal gave New Orleans a 19-17 National Football League upset Sunday.
The kick on the last play of the game appeared to be heaven-sent for the underdog Saints, who supposedly hadn't a prayer of winning.

Top Teams Win College Grid Tilts

There's no such thing as a super team... or is there?
The author of the first part of that statement is Bill Beall, whose Baylor team gave top-rated Texas all it could handle Saturday before bowing 21-14 on a pair of Steve Worster touchdowns.
But he may get an argument from Bud Carson of Georgia Tech, whose next assignment is second-ranked Notre Dame, fresh from a 46-14 pounding of Pitt.
"Let me emphasize that I think Notre Dame is the best team in the country," Carson said after Saturday's 30-8 triumph over Navy. "I've seen films of Ohio State and Texas."

'Curly' Smart To Be Honored At Banquet

Wayne "Curly" Smart of Delaware, Ohio, and the Equine Research Center of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Ohio State University, are the 1970 winners of the two major awards to be presented by the Ohio Chapter of the U.S. Harness Writers' Association at their third annual banquet, Sunday, Nov. 15th at the Columbus Sheraton Motor Hotel.

Chapter President George Strode, disclosed that Smart had been awarded the Meritorious Award as "the Ohioan who had contributed the most to harness racing during the past two decades." The veteran trainer-driver, track expert, racing official was inducted into the harness hall of fame last year.

Strode further stated that the Veterinary Clinic at Ohio State University had been named to receive the Achievement Award, for "making the greatest contribution to the sport of harness racing during the past year." Strode said, "The Equine Research Center at Ohio State has perfected the 'pre-race blood test' system to the point where it can now be utilized at any race track in the country. The system which tests horses by blood sample prior to a race, was started back in 1966 at Scioto Downs, and expanded to Northfield Park in 1969. The U.S. Trotting Association hopes to introduce its use at all major raceways in the next few years."

Curley Smart, who has all but retired from active racing, races on the Ohio Fair circuit, is one of the most experienced track maintenance men in the business. Smart is a Vice President of the Little Brown Jug Society and a Director of the U.S. Trotting Association. Tickets for the third annual Harness Writers' banquet may be purchased from Tom White at the U.S. Trotting Association, 750 Michigan Ave. Columbus, Ohio 43215. Tables may be reserved with the purchase of a minimum of ten tickets.

The Saints' bull-strong booter had some faith he could make the distance, which bettered the 1956 mark of 56 yards by Baltimore's Bert Rechichar.
"I knew I could kick the ball that far, but whether or not I could kick it straight, kept running through my mind," Dempsey said. "I knew I had to hit the ball awfully hard and would need a little extra time. But the Lions held up perfectly and I got a perfect snap (from Joe Scarpati)."
The field goal had a field day in other NFL games Sunday. Cincinnati's Horst Muhlmann kicked five three-pointers as the Bengals bested Buffalo 43-14; George Blanda's 52-yarder helped Oakland trim Cleveland 23-20; Fred Cox sailed four field goals in Minnesota's 19-10 success over Washington; Mike Mercer's 38-yard boot was the difference in San Diego's 24-21 victory over Denver and Pete Gogolak ripped three as the New York Giants upset Dallas 23-20.

Coach John Vaught, who was stricken with a mild heart attack last month.

Joe Theismann became Notre Dame's all-time total offense leader with a 381-yard performance against Pitt — 284 passing and 97 rushing. He threw for three touchdowns.

"Theismann really put on a show for the fans," said Coach Ara Parseghian. "As you know, we like to let Joe's performance on the field speak for his qualifications for the Heisman Trophy. His performance was eloquent."

With Manning sidelined, Theismann probably is Plunkett's chief competition.

Third-ranked Ohio State and No. 5 Michigan continued to share the Big Ten lead with the showdown coming up Nov. 21. The Buckeyes struggled past Wisconsin 24-7 behind John Brockington's three touchdowns while Michigan breezed past Illinois 42-0 as Glenn Doughty and Billy Taylor each scored twice.

Nebraska, rated fourth, swept past Iowa State 54-29 as Joe Orndun scored three touchdowns and Jerry Tagge passed for two. Seventh-ranked Arkansas, led by Bill Montgomery's three TDs, overcame a 14-3 halftime deficit and whipped Rice 38-14 to keep pace with Texas in the Southwest Conference.

Tennessee ranked eighth, needed George Hunt's 31-yard field goal with 15 seconds left to nip South Carolina 20-18 and No. 10 Auburn blasted Mississippi State 56-0 behind sharpshooting Pat Sullivan.

Heading the Second Ten, Louisiana State's rugged defense stifled Alabama 14-9 in a match between the teams ranked 11th and 19th. Arizona State, No. 12, trounced San Jose State 46-10 with Bobby Thomas scoring three times but 14th-ranked San Diego State needed a fourth-period pass from Brian Sipe to Tim Delaney to edge Pacific 14-13. The losers' John Read, the nation's No. 2 passer, suffered torn knee ligaments.

Toledo, ranked 15th, wallowed Northern Illinois 45-7; No. 17 Dartmouth hammered Columbia 55-0, the biggest victory margin in Ivy League history; and No. 20 Syracuse fought off — literally — Army 31-20 as two free-for-alls broke out in the closing seconds.

Other whopping scores included Southern California 70-33 over Washington State, Boston College 65-12 over Buffalo and North Carolina 62-13 over VMI. Wake Forest stunned Duke 28-14 for the lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Louisville knocked off Memphis State 40-27 and won its way into the Pasadena Bowl as the Missouri Valley's representative and Kansas State whipped Oklahoma State 28-15, setting up next week's Big Eight shootout with Nebraska.

straight victory by topping North Texas State 30-10 in a Missouri Valley Conference game. Jesse Taylor carried the ball into the end zone three times.

Other games: Akron 42, Youngstown State 14; Xavier 35, Quantico Marines 27; Anderson, Ind. 37, DePue 34; Findlay 31, John Carroll 15; Mount Union 35, Ohio Northern 12; Marietta 45, West Virginia Wesleyan 20; Case Western Reserve 22, Coast Guard 7; Washington Jefferson 44, Wilmington 28.

Elsewhere in the conference, Ohio Wesleyan humiliated Oberlin 41-0 for its first league win; Muskingum, sparked by Dave Hayes' two touchdowns, defeated Heidelberg 21-6, and Hiram edged Kenyon 13-12 despite the performance of Chris Myers who snared 10 passes for a NCAA college division record of 247 career catches.

Rose Bowl-bidding Ohio State rolled over Big Ten foe Wisconsin 24-7 with fullback John Brockington scoring all three Buckeye touchdowns.

Ohio State's sputtering ground game netted only 164 yards and, as frequently has been the case this season, its opportunistic defense set up scoring plays.

"Our defense was great. Our offense wasn't much today," OSU Coach Woody Hayes said.

In the only Mid-American Conference game Saturday, Ohio University clobbered Bowling Green 34-7 as sophomore tailback Bill Gary ran for three touchdowns, kicking specialist Jim Kensingher booted two field goals and Steve Hodgson bulldozed for one TD.

Playing outside the MAC, Miami rolled over Dayton 17-0. Toledo crushed Northern Illinois 45-7 and Kent State was a 20-17 victim of Marshall.

Cincinnati racked up its fourth played to a 10-10 tie; Philadelphia won its first game since Nov. 23, 1969 by beating Miami 24-17; San Francisco routed Chicago 37-16; Kansas City slugged Houston 24-9; St. Louis wallowed Boston 31-0 and Pittsburgh topped the New York Jets 21-17 in the other games. Green Bay and Baltimore clash in the Monday night television (ABC) game in Milwaukee's County Stadium.

Dempsey's booming drive cleared the cross-bar by mere inches, and he admitted it took some special ingredients.

"There's so much involved in kicking a 60-yard field goal," he said. "You've got to try and hit the ball as hard as you possibly can and yet, kicking it straight is a hard thing to do."
"It just happened that I hit it right that time and it happened at the right time."

Detroit appeared to have won it when Erol Maun kicked an 18-yard field goal with 11 seconds to give the Lions a one-point lead.

But New Orleans' quarterback Billy Kilmer completed a pass to Al Dodd after the Detroit kickoff and Dodd went out of bounds at the Saints' 45 with two seconds left.

Then Dempsey, born toeless on his right kicking foot, did his thing.

Muhlmann drilled field goals of 22, 30, 13, 36 and 43 yards for Cincinnati, which snapped a six-game slide. Buffalo's O.J. Simpson suffered a severe bruise on his left leg.

Blanda, Oakland's 43-year-old kicking wizard, came through with his game-winner with three seconds left. He earlier relieved Daryle Lamonica at quarterback in the final period and threw a 14-yard touchdown pass and kicked the extra point.

Cox made good on attempts of 44-17, 24 and 42 yards and Dave Osborn spun over from the one as Minnesota stopped Washington.

John Hadl fired three touchdown passes, two to Gary Garrison, and Mercer added the finishing touch for San Diego with his field goal.

Gogolak kicked the New York Giants into contention with his talented toe, then Ron Johnson sparked in a second-half comeback with two touchdowns. The Giants held off a determined Dallas scoring bid in the closing moments.

Roman Gabriel threw a four-yard scoring strike and David Ray kicked the extra point that pulled Los Angeles into a tie with underdog Atlanta.

Philadelphia had to stave off a fourth-quarter rally by battling Miami. Norm Snead had built a substantial Eagle lead on three TD tosses.

John Brodie completed 21 passes for San Francisco and moved into an elite class of quarterbacks with 2,000 or more lifetime completions. John Unitas, Y.A. Tittle and Sonny Jurgensen are the others.

Linebacker Bobby Bell latched onto a Houston pass and raced 45 yards for a Kansas City touchdown that broke open the rainstorm-slowed game.

MacArthur Lane broke loose on three touchdowns runs and they were all the St. Louis Cardinals needed.

Pittsburgh handed the injured New York Jets their sixth straight loss as John Fuqua bulldozed over for two Steeler scores.

Circleville's JV's Crush Unbeaten HT Reserves

Circleville's reserves scored once in the first half and twice in the second half to down the previously undefeated Hamilton Township reserves, 22-6, Saturday at the Tiger's field.

"It was a hard hitting team effort," Tiger Coach Jim Lint stated, "and the best we've looked all year."

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first period when Dave Webb scored on a quarterback sneak from the 1-foot line. A Webb to Dave Pontious pass was good for the conversion and the Red and Black were out in front, 8-0.

In the third quarter Mark Warner broke up the middle on a fine inside trap play, picked

Bengals Put It Together For 43-14 Win Over Bills

BUFFALO (AP) — Take a bit of Virgil Carter's passing and running mix it with the footwork of Horst Muhlmann and the alertness of Lemar Parrish and Royce Berry—and what do the Cincinnati Bengals get? A victory!

The Bengals tossed those ingredients together Sunday and came away with a 43-14 National Football League victory over the Buffalo Bills. It was Cincinnati's second this season after six straight losses and first triumph on the road in 15 games.

Carter, dropped by the Bills after a five-week trial at quarterback, came back to haunt him with 12 pass-completions in 24 tries and 31 yards running.

It was Parrish, a 5-foot-11, 185-pound corner back, who set the show, however. He put the Bengals in front to stay with a 95-yard return of a kick-off for a touchdown. And he put the icing on the cake with an 83-yard touchdown run from the recovery of a blocked field-goal attempt.

Berry, a 249-pound defensive end, virtually crawled across Buffalo's goal line from eight yards out after recovering Bills' quarterback Dennis Shaw's fumble.

Horst a soccer-style kicker, booted five field goals—from 22, 30, 13, 36 and 43 yards—in addition to four extra points.

Parrish's long-distance sprints were welcomed by his teammates. He's had a lot of long runs, but never managed in his first season of pro ball to go all the way.

"I made up my mind that I was going to be tough," he said. "I just saw a couple of big holes and took off."

On his 95-yard jaunt, he hit down the middle. On the shorter run, he went to his left and was at full speed the last 35 yards, easily outdistancing pursuers.

The Bills, meanwhile, were far off their performance of a week ago, when they easily defeated Boston for their second victory in a row. Shaw could not get their attack going; neither could Jim Harris who spelled him in the fourth period.

Early in the game Shaw did get Buffalo on the scoreboard with a 29-yard pass to Marlin Briscoe.

Badgers Put Up Struggle, But OSU Winner, 24-7

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's Badgers put up a tough fight against nationally-ranked Ohio State, but two critical third period errors gave the Buckeyes a 24-7 victory Saturday.

One directly, the other indirectly, they led to two of John Brockington's three touchdowns.

Halfback Lance Moon fumbled on the Badger five midway through the period and less than a minute later, after a Buckeye TD, Rufus Ferguson stepped out of bounds on his five after taking a kickoff.

"I thought I had a tight enough hold on the ball," Moon said later. "I sidestepped a man and somehow he snagged it out of my hands."

Doug Adams recovered and Brockington needed two smashes to give Ohio State a 17-7 lead—more comfortable than the 19-7 halftime margin.

After Ferguson's mental error, Wisconsin was forced to punt from deep in Badger territory and the Buckeyes needed only three plays to storm into the end zone from the Wisconsin 46.

Both coaches agreed it was a tough defensive battle.

"Our defense was great," said Ohio State's Woody Hayes.

The mistakes wrecked what Wisconsin Coach John Jardine called "our best defensive performance this season."

"I felt," he said, "at the beginning of the second half we had as much momentum as anybody. Our game plan was to stop 'em on the ground and force 'em to throw the football. I think we did, too."

"Wisconsin's defense was good," admitted Hayes. "It stopped us inside and on our wide plays." Wisconsin limited

Nino Benvenuti Falls To Monzon

By HILMI TOROS
ROME, Nov. 9 (AP) — Is Nino through?

That was the question the Italians posed this weekend as Nino Benvenuti, the pride and powerhouse of their country, succumbed to the thunderous right of Argentina's Carlos Monzon.

With that right hook—in the 12th round—the world middleweight boxing crown slipped away from Italy, also casting doubts on Benvenuti's future.

He is, after all, 32 years of age and no longer the speedster he was when he won the gold medal in the 1960 Rome Olympics.

The Citadel will play five of its 11 football games at night this season.

N.Y. Beats Portland, 125-113

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A National Basketball Association team scores 46 points in one period and it probably should win the game, right?

Wrong. The Portland Trail Blazers came out smoking with a 46-point fourth quarter, but wound up trailing the New York Knicks Sunday night.

Final: New York 125, Portland 113.

The Knicks actually had cooled off Portland with some hot hands of their own in Willis Reed, Walt Frazier and Cazzie Russell. They led by as many as 31 points in the third period. Reed and Frazier had 28 points apiece and Russell, 21.

In Sunday's other NBA games, Seattle defeated Cleveland 111-105; Milwaukee stopped Phoenix 125-105 and Los Angeles turned back Baltimore 124-105.

In the American Basketball Association, Memphis trimmed Pittsburgh 105-96; Utah stopped Indiana 111-103; New York's Nets toppled Denver 114-104 and Carolina defeated the Floridians 122-115.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was Boston 140, Cincinnati 122; Philadelphia 134, Seattle 128; Phoenix 107, Atlanta 100; Chicago 125, Detroit 99; San Francisco 114, San Diego 102 and Buffalo 103, Cleveland 91.

Seattle overcame a 17-point deficit in leading the winless Cleveland Cavaliers their 14th straight defeat, one short of the NBA record for consecutive losses at the start of the season.

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Most Happy Fella climaxed a most happy weekend for Stanley Dancer by winning the $123,450 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night.

The victory gave Most Happy Fella the 1970 pacing triple crown and marked the first time Dancer, one of harness racing's most famous drivers, has swept the triple.

The weekend opened for Dancer Friday night when he scored with Keystone Memento in the $29,222 Belle Acton Pace for 2-year-old fillies.

Ferguson Plans Probe Of Loans

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph T. Ferguson, Democratic state auditor-elect, plans to investigate state loans, Ohio Department of Development, Ohio State Fair and "Wonderful World of Ohio" magazine when he takes office in January.

Name Panel For Review Of Courts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An 18-member special advisory committee on rules of criminal procedure was named Friday by Chief Justice C. William O'Neill of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The committee, made up of judges, prosecuting attorneys and defense lawyers, will be chaired by Judge Thomas J. Parron of Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

It will review practices used in all Ohio courts from bail and indictment to trial and sentencing and recommend a uniform set of rules for consideration by the supreme court and Ohio Legislature.

Uniform rules are required under the Modern Courts Amendment to the Ohio Constitution, approved by voters in 1968.

Committee members are:

Judge Ralph D. Cole Jr., Findlay; Judge George M. Claser, Toledo; Judge Henry L. Holden, Columbus; Judge Oscar A. Hunsicker, Akron; Judge Robert G. Tague, New Lexington; Everett Burton, Portsmouth; Sumner Canary, Cleveland; John T. Corrigan, Cleveland; Mrs. Carol G. Ehrling, Painesville; Nicholas Manes, Youngstown; Walter A. Porter, Dayton; Robert J. Rotatori, Cleveland; Melvin G. Reuger, Cincinnati; Henry C. Scott, Columbus; Eugene D. Smith, Cincinnati; and George E. Tyack, Columbus.

collect the loans," says the 76-year-old Ferguson, who served as auditor from 1936 to 1952.

Ferguson, whose state government experience began in 1914, said, "I want to find out what the Ohio Department of Development has done. I am not just going to take a lot of hot air. I just really want to see if Ohio has gotten all those factories."

Also on his list of investigations is the Ohio State Fair to determine if it is "really making money" and the state magazine, which he says has lost a "lot of money."

The state auditor has the right to investigate any matter involving state money and issue subpoenas during the investigation, he said.

He declined to identify those persons he would subpoena in an investigation of state loans. "I don't want to talk about it until I get into office," he said.

Ferguson, who is the oldest statewide officeholder in history, said the state loan scandal "hurt the Republican party quite a bit. If officials in the Statehouse had tended to their duties, they would have averted defeat."

A report by present Auditor Roger Cloud earlier this year disclosed the state had exceeded the statutory limit of 50 million in investments, one of which totaled $4 million to Four Seasons Nursing Home, Inc., of Oklahoma. The firm is involved in reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws. As a result, the loan has not been repaid.

Ferguson defeated Republican Roger Tracy Jr., in last Tuesday's election for auditor. In previous campaigns for state auditor, Ferguson had faced and defeated Tracy's grandfather and father. He called the Tracy's a "fine family," but adds with delight that he is their "nemesis."

He said his health is "very good" and that he has not been in the hospital since his heart attack in November 1967. "The doctor said I had a heart attack," he recalled, "but I didn't even know it."

Ferguson, who stands five feet four inches, and has a resemblance to comedian Joe E. Brown said, he will succeed as auditor "because I have ambition and ability." He adds that as auditor, "Anything that I see that needs to be done, I'll do."

He said he plans to put "some younger fellows" on his staff, but added he will not be ready to make any announcement for several weeks.

"All my employees are going to work," he said. "People get the impression if you get a political job, you don't have to work. That's not true."

Social Security Answers

Q — My husband I receive a single social security check with both our names on it. Can we receive separate checks?

A — Yes. Checks for married couples usually are combined to save check cashing fees. But if you'd rather get separate checks, just send a written request, signed by you or your husband, to your social security office.

Q — I'll soon be 60 and eligible for social security widow's benefits. I have no idea what my husband's social security number was, and I can't find his card. Can I apply for social security anyhow?

A — Yes, go ahead and file the application at your social security office. But, to locate your husband's number, they'll need to know his full name, where and when he was born, his father's name and his mother's maiden name.

Q — My wife collects social security as my dependent. She just started working and will make more than $1680 this year. How will this affect our checks?

A — Your check will stay the same because your benefit is only affected if you work. But your wife's benefit will be reduced according to the amount she earns.

Q — My wife is 62. Can she get social security retirement benefits if I don't retire?

A — If she has enough social security credit on her own to qualify as a retired worker, she can collect whether you retire or not. But she cannot get benefits based on your work record unless you are retired.

University Hall Won't Be Razed Trustees Decide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Yielding to opposition from alumni and the general public, Ohio State University trustees decided Friday not to demolish University Hall, first building to be constructed on the campus.

Instead, the original wing will be restored with private funds, the newer north wing will be razed, and a new building will be erected on an alternate site with money originally allocated to replace the 97-year-old landmark.

In recommending Friday that the trustees rescind their two-year-old decision to demolish the building, President Novice Fawcett noted "interest from the alumni and general public is preserving University Hall."

Former Ohio Supreme Court Judge Paul M. Herbert has led a campaign to save the old structure.

Gilligans Get Ready To Move In

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Joyce and Mary Katherine Gilligan have begun to prepare for moving day.

The Democratic governor-elect took a look at his future office Friday, discussed the transition of administrations with Gov. James A. Rhodes and met the Statehouse press corps.

Mrs. Gilligan accompanied Helen Rhodes on a tour of the rambling 47-year-old governor's mansion in suburban Bexley.

Both Gilligan and Rhodes said their meeting was cordial. Rhodes offered Gilligan the help of his staff and cabinet officers in making the changeover.

Later at a luncheon for newsmen, Gilligan announced appointment of James M. Friedman, 29, of Cleveland, as his executive counsel, the first major staff position he has filled.

Gilligan said Friedman, a lawyer, will be "the right hand of the governor." He will be chief of the governor's personal staff and in charge of liaison with cabinet departments.
